

2. Cosmic View Communities - USA Focus

Concept Origin

Donald Trump declared that during his second presidential term he will establish a program to develop model communities in the USA. I intend to submit a proposal for “COSMIC VIEW COMMUNITIES”. The ultimate intent for these communities is to house the “keepers of the earth and nature.”

My sense is that National Forests land will be made available for some model communities. I have been guided to consult the Hopi Nation in Arizona and the Confederate Tribes of Umatilla Indian Reservation in Oregon to determine their possible interest In a Cosmic View Community or community center.

The communities will be design to be totally independent and self sufficient, eco friendly, nature enhancing, and based on ancient free energy. These “villages” will be ideal for native indigenous communities and for individuals with similar love of nature and earth ideals. They will use eco friendly ancient technologies to enhance living standards, comfort, and crop productivity.

Each individual home will be designed via the same principles. The geometry, the materials, and the design of the whole community will support and enhance the principles. These communities are not intended to grow into giant metropolises. Instead, each community will integrate with nature, the landscape, and the earth’s geomagnetism. Food production will be abundant and will come naturally, to feed not only the community but, if desired, earth’s non agricultural populations.

Individual Cosmic View Home With it's own Pyramid

The insights I cumulatively got were to start with a square open courtyard, garden area. The rooms of the house are built on all four sides of the courtyard, completely surrounding it.

The square courtyard will be “covered” by a pyramid frame. The pyramid frame will provide pyramid energy under it and radiating from each of the corners of the pyramid. Pyramid energy is known to provide positive benefits to food, water, plants, and the physical and mental health of living beings.

In addition, an electric energy collecting capacitor at the apex of the pyramid could be installed to harvest atmospheric electricity for the home and the community. (More discussion of the electricity aspects of the community in the Ancient Free Energy section following the Cosmic View Communities sub section.)

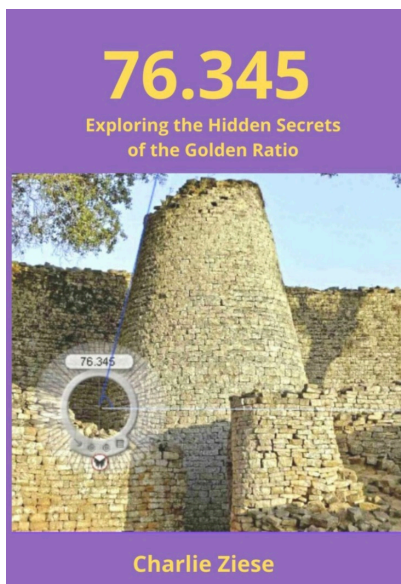

Note: I have opted for a an open pyramid frame, instead of a covered greenhouse, to allow a natural garden with ambient rainfall and wind, insect, and bird pollination of plants - also hurricane resistant.

Other frequency enhancing or energy generation insights I have gotten include: A water pool shaped as an inverted pyramid at the center of the courtyard, mirroring the top of the pyramid frame. A quartz crystal at the center of the pyramid/courtyard.

The pyramid frame will be designed to protect against harmful ElectroMagnetic Frequencies (EMF) which seem to proliferate as technology advances.

Page 1163:

"the Russian Pyramid geometry is the one that results in geometric and harmonic coherence, explaining why the pyramid is said to amplify and clarify any field within its area of influence."

Page 1193:

Russian Pyramid Protects Against EMF Radiation

"we demonstrate that electromagnetic pollution was not detected within the pyramid and an area outside the pyramid. The volume of area benefiting from such remediation was found to be a function both of the size of the Russian pyramid used as well as the amount and type of energy enhancements used"

Stargate Pyramids - Proof of 5G and EMF Protection

YouTube

First execution step: I plan to fund building the first Cosmic View Home to demonstrate the benefits of the design, its viability, and its construction execution. My daughter is in her third university year of architecture. With her help, talents, and creativity, along with the input of knowledgeable and talented individuals I hope to encourage to collaborate, we can manifest an exemplary Cosmic View Home.

The considerations that lead to the creation of the total home design are numerous and complex. However, the execution of the construction must be elegantly practical and relatively simple. The geometric architecture and materials should accommodate use of available technology but, importantly, should be able to seamlessly transition to free energy technology advancements without waste or the need to tear down and rebuild to get correct geometries or materials.

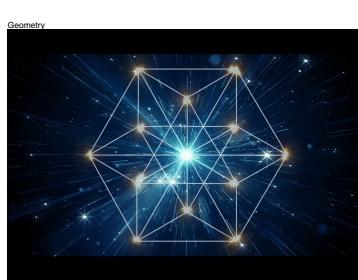

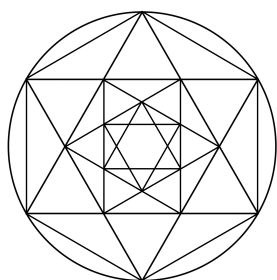

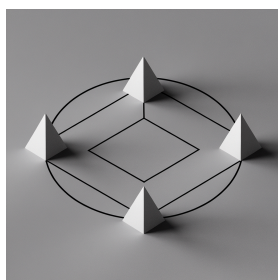

Cosmic View Community Design

The geometric placement of each individual cosmic view home will be designed to enhance the energy, beneficial frequencies, and functionality of the overall community. At the center will be a park, maybe with a water element, and/or a community center modeled after a Cosmic View Home and its pyramid.

The overall energy impact of a community should: 1) Not negatively impact the earth's ley lines and geomagnetism, 2) Take advantage of beneficial effects of the earth's ley line and geomagnetism, 3) Enhance the earth's ley lines and geomagnetism, 4) If possible, even establish ley lines and geomagnetism complementary to existing earth ley lines and geomagnetism.

Based on another insight, the 20 to 30 cosmic view homes (and community center) geometric placements and alignments could be intentionally made to produce a beneficial energy vortex at the center of each community. Placement of individual homes in phi spirals should achieve generation of a energy central vortex.

Images of possible conceptual community geometries are shown below.

Monteriggioni, Italy

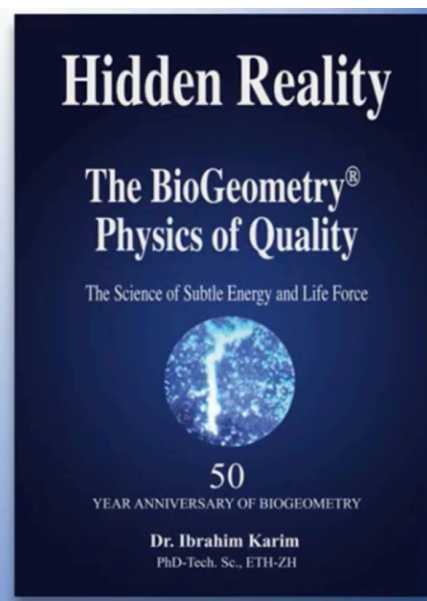

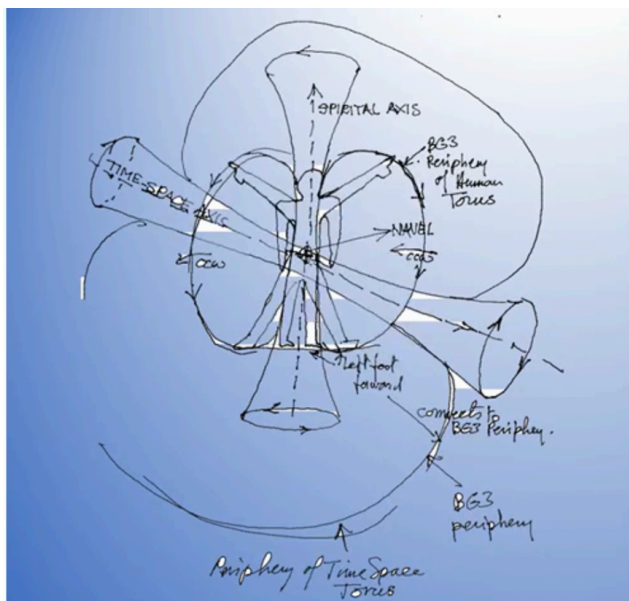

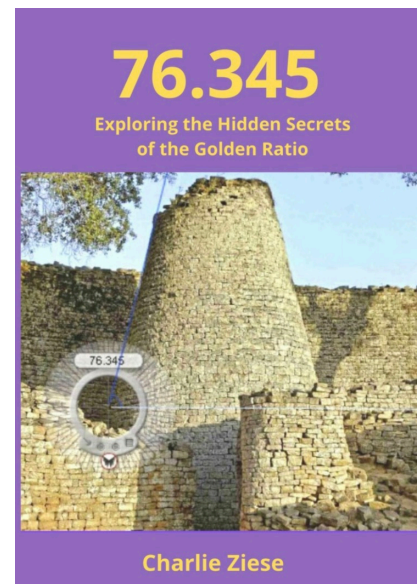

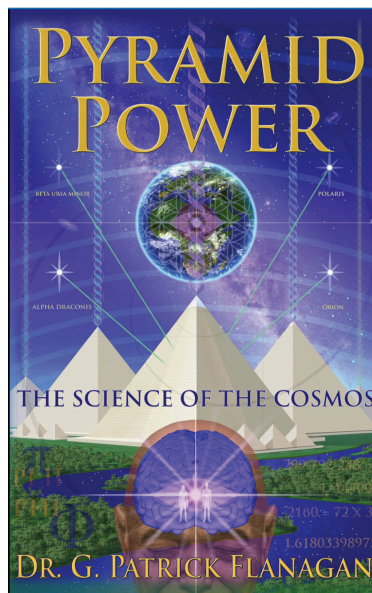

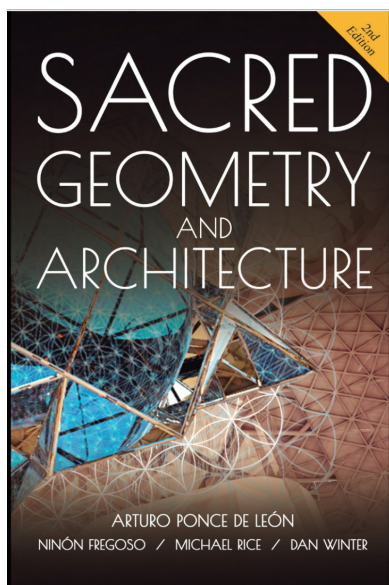

Palmanova, Italy

The first step to locating an individual cosmic view home, community center, or a cosmic view community of perhaps 20 to 30 units will be to conduct a geomagnetic and ley line survey of the area. The results will guide the geometric design of the community, the construction, and land/water utilization. In all cases, sacred measurements and geometry will be used for locating each unit to induce positive effects for people, plants, animals, crops, the environment, and the earth.

BioGeometry And Sacred Geometry Architecture

The geometric design is work in progress. The homes/community centers will be “bio-friendly” to the earth and its geomagnetism, living organisms, and the environment and will elegantly use free energy. The architecture of each individual structure is essential; proper geometry, materials, and orientation. The sacred geometric placement of multiple individual structures is, likewise, essential. In addition, overall placement within the environment of the location, the earth ley lines, and local geomagnetism is also key.

Juan Schlosser

CONCRETE AND IRON IN MODERN ARCHITECTURE

- CEMENT heated up to 3,000 degrees creates a missing, unstable isotope which gives it an unbalanced positive charge.
draws electrons out of anything with an opposite charge in close proximity, causing chronic fatigue / ELECTRON STEALER.
- Iron rebar acts as a conductor, bleeding capacitance, also increase the magnetic field destroying the dielectric field

i like to show this i mean this slide also talking about iron like

Contacts For Knowledge, Talent, & Potential Collaboration on Biogeometry, Materials, Architecture

1. Charles Ziese- pyramidsciencefoundation.com
2. Mark Leib - Sacred Design Studio <https://www.markleib.com/>
3. Juan Schlosser - bioarchitects.net
3. Robert Gilbert's vesica.org
4. David Clements - infynergy - <https://www.isee-infynergy.com>
5. Slim Spurling - lightlifetechnology.com
6. Elizabeth Hazzard - holofractaloulintedgration.com (for Ley Lines)